I would eagerly recommend Griffin for employment. He has a tremendous work ethic, is punctual and upholds his commitments, is a resourceful problem solver, and is always in good humor. We enjoyed Griffin very much, and frankly would offer him employment if we had need for his professional skills.

Auburn

As engineers and scientists, we were always eager to see Griffin's latest university design project. Although we are not in a position to judge his professional skills, we could accurately assess how he approached his projects, sought out resources, and managed his time. He was excellent in every aspect of resource and project management.

Again, I heartily endorse Griffin for a professional position, and would welcome a call to clarify any questions that you may have.

To whom it may concern,

James Griffin Stewart worked for me in two capacities at Heavenly Ski Resort during the 2003/04-winter season.

Griffin started the year as one of our parking attendants in California. He did a wonderful job. He worked hard, was always on time and had excellent guest service skills. He followed our grooming standards and was always in uniform. He was one of our monthly STARS + employees for his great guest service.

Because I also manage the Greeter/Host department, I thought Griffin would make a great Host because of his guest service skills. I was right. He came over to be a Greeter, who welcome our guests at our base facilities and a Host, who assist our guests up on the mountain. He helped our guests find their way around the mountain and gave mountain tours. Because he is a wonderful employee he once again became one of this department's monthly STARS+ employees.

Griffin will be a positive addition to any team he may choose to join in the future. I highly recommend Griffin for any position he may apply for in his future.

Yours truly.

To Whom It May Concern,

Griffin Stewart worked for Heavenly the winter of 2003-2004. Vail Resorts, Inc. is very focused on Safety and Guest Service where Griffin exceeded in both areas. Griffin's main job was to deliver excellent guest service, basically to meet and greet our guests as they arrived and to hand out hot chocolate or granola bars at the end of the day while thanking our guests for coming to Heavenly. Some of Griffin's jobs duties included; helping guests with directions around our lodges and our mountain, also helping guests with their equipment and assisting guests as they leave for the day with bus issues or any other situations that may occur.

We hold our guest service staff to very high expectations and Griffin exceeded our expectations in every category. Griffin has amazing guest service skills he is very friendly, outgoing, and very approachable, which is important to our department. What ever it takes to get the job done, Griffin is willing to do it and usually with a great sense of humor. Besides being reliable and dependable Griffin was a valuable team member, not just within our department but when we were called on to help out another department Griffin always gave his best. Griffin would be a valued addition to any team especially in a position that involves guest interaction.

Sincerely,

Subject: A wonderful guest service experience

I am the manager of marketing research and was visiting Heavenly this weekend.

On Friday, 3/19, I witnessed Griffin Stewart give one of your guests extraordinary guest service to a foot passenger guest.

Griffin was standing at the 'map' at the top of the gondola and noticed a father with a stroller attempting to go up the stairs. Griffin left his post went over to the father and helped him carry the stroller and child up to the gondola. I am sure this gesture left a good impression on this guest, as I know it left a wonderful impression on me!

Loved your sunshine and "slushy" snow!
